Fossil Fanatics Unite: Fossil ID with Cincinnati Dry Dredgers

Grab your fossil collection and head to Cincinnati Nature Center at Rowe Woods on July 11 and join the Cincinnati Dry Dredgers and other fossil fanatics as they identify fossils that you have discovered. From 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m. the Cincinnati Dry Dredgers will be at CNC to identify your fossils and teach you how to improve your fossil hunting skills.

The Cincinnati Dry Dredgers is a non-profit group that welcomes fossil enthusiasts of all ages, backgrounds, and levels of expertise. They strive to stimulate interest in and promote education about collection, identification, and classification of all fossil types. Bring in any fossils that you have, and they will do their best to tell you what you have found!

Members of CNC can attend this event for free, while nonmembers must pay daily admission. This event is open to people of all ages and does not require registration. For more information about Cincinnati Dry Dredgers, visit www.drydredgers.org. For other information, visit www.CincyNature.org or call 513/831-1711. Cincinnati Nature Center's Rowe Woods is located at 4949 Tealtown Road, Milford, OH 45150.

Cincinnati Nature Center is a non-profit, environmental education organization. Their mission is to inspire passion for nature and promote environmentally responsible choices through experience, education and stewardship to ensure a sustainable future.
